David Margam

ROAD TO WEST COAST

David Margam wants to end the year as it began by working hard to continue sharing new songs with his followers.

If there is a perfect Smooth Jazz song, it would be this one: for its structure, arrangements, production and elegance.

A Spanish Co-production at the height of the best productions of this genre. "Road to West Coast" is an elegant composition co-produced with the talented Spanish producer and musician Nacho Valenciaga and with the invaluable collaboration of Miami saxophonist Jorge Pinelo, one of today's best Latin saxophonists without forgetting the collaboration of the singer from Spanish Jazz María Romero who brings truly magical backing vocals to this elegant production. "Road to West Coast" represents the opportunity to be better every day and to evolve until you achieve freedom on a path of joy and torment that will take you through beautiful soundscapes influenced by the "West Coast" sound until you reach such a long-awaited destination.
